Enhancing Financial Consumer Protection

A State-level Consultation on 'Enhancing Financial Consumers' Protection in Particular Women through Financial Literacy Initiatives' was organised by CUTS at Jaipur on December 20, 2019.

While addressing the participants, Rashmi Gupta, IAS, Additional Commissioner, Department of Consumer Affairs, Government of Rajasthan stressed upon the role of women in the financial planning of a home. She said that women play a very important role in generating savings for the family. Earlier they used to make savings by way of hiding bits of money, but now they should open their own bank accounts and deposit savings in them. Time has been changed now and such financial literacy initiatives are very important to make women aware of present financial banking and other services.

Mukesh Kumar, Deputy General Manager, Reserve Bank of India Jaipur insisted CUTS to include success stories of those people which have been achieved through the advocacy of the organisation. He also encouraged people to go for digital literacy after being financially literate by using debit/credit cards and Bhim App etc. He also stressed on the less usage of currency notes and highlighted important benefits, such as cost-cutting from the process of printing, regenerating, scanning notes etc.

The key findings of the baseline survey under the project were presented by Amar Deep Singh of CUTS which was done in 2017. Munshi Kothari, Former Director of RBI, Mumbai mentioned that the actual position of financial literacy is much better than presented. The event was attended by more than 70 participants including representatives of CSOs working on financial literacy, media and banks, beneficiaries of the project from Bhilwara and Chittorgarh districts of Rajasthan.
